AMERICAN COUNCIL FOR AN ENERGY-EFFICIENT ECONOMY

ACEEE and CHP

- We have also been leaders in the analysis of CHP market potential, environmental and economic impacts, and policies impacting the CHP market.
- Neal Elliott was one of the analysts responsible for the renewed interest in CHP in the late 1990s, and has continued to be a leader in the field both domestically and internationally.
- Today, we focus on dismantling barriers through identification, information dispersal, and research and analysis of state and federal policy

CHP Publications

- Published several major reports including:
 - Combined Heat and Power: Capturing Wasted Energy (R.N. Elliott and M. Spurr) May 1999.
 - Distributed Energy Resources and Combined Heat and Power: A Declaration of Terms (A.M. Shipley and R.N. Elliott) April 2000.
 - The Role of CHP in Addressing Texas's Need for Pollution Reduction and Growth in Energy Demand (R.N. Elliott and B. Headman) Feb. 2001.

Other Activities

- Partnered in developing CHP Vision and Roadmap
- Facilitated regional roadmaps (Midwest, Midatlantic, New York)
- Key player in formation of USCHPA
- Hosts of the CHP/DG Analysis Working Group
